THE FRANCONIA STORIES.—By Abbot this day received. aug10 S. CHAPMAN.

Coleridge's Opium Confession.

Taste and good sense are gradually driving intemperance from the society of the refined and intelligent. The man who becomes intoxicated at a public dinner is no longer looked upon with admiration; the man who should offer to drink six bottles at a sitting would be voted a barbarian, or a squatter-sovereignty congressman; and the man who should actually accomplish it would be voted a beast. But as brandy drunkenness dies away, opium intoxication is on the increase. To those who drink laudanum, swallow opium pills or morphine, we commend the following terrible confession of Coleridge. Let them peruse it, if they have the energy, and be warned, if there is time. It is a letter to Mr. Cottle:

"April 26th, 1814.—You have poured oil in the raw and festering wound of an old friend's conscience, Cottle! but it is oil of vitriol! I but barely glanced at the middle of the first page of your letter, and have seen no more of it—not from resentment (God forbid!) but from the state of my bodily and mental sufferings, that scarcely permitted human fortitude to let in a new visitor of affliction. The object of my present reply is to state the case just as it is.

First, that for ten years the anguish of my spirit has been indescribable, the sense of my danger staring, but the consciousness of my guilt worse, far worse than all! I have prayed with drops of agony on my brow; trembling, not only before the justice of my Maker, but even before the mercy of my Redeemer. 'I gave thee so many talents, what hast thou done with them?'

Secondly, overwhelmed as I am with a sense of my direful infirmity, I have never attempted to disguise or conceal the cause. On the contrary, not only to friends have I stated the whole with tears and the very bitterness of shame; but in two instances I have warned young men, mere acquaintances, who had spoken of having taken laudanum, of the direful consequences, by an awful exposition of its tremendous effects on myself.

Thirdly, though before God I cannot lift up my eyelids, and only do not despair of his mercy, because to despair would be adding crime to crime, yet to my fellow men I may say, that I was seduced to the accursed habit ignorantly. I had been almost bed-ridden for many months with swelling in my knees. In a medical journal, I unhappily met with an account of a cure performed in a similar case (or what appeared to me so,) by rubbing in of laudanum, at the same time taking a dose internally. It acted like a charm, like a miracle! I recovered the use of my limbs, of my appetite, of my spirits, and thus continued for near a fortnight. At length the unusual stimulus subsided, the complaint returned, the supposed remedy was recurred to—but I cannot go through the dreary history. Suffice it to say, that effects were produced which acted on me by terror and cowardice of pain, and sudden death, not (so help me God!) by any temptation of pleasure, or desire of exciting pleasurable sensations. On the very contrary, Mrs. Morgan and her sister will bear witness so far as to say, that the longer I abstained, the higher my spirits were—the keener my enjoyments—till the moment, the direful moment arrived, when my pulse began to palpitate, and such a dreadful falling abroad, as it were of my whole frame, such intolerable restleness and incipient bewilderment, that in the last of several attempts to abandon the dire poison, I exclaimed in agony, which I now repeat in seriousness and solemnity—'I am too poor to hazard this.'

Had I but a few hundred pounds; but £200, half to send to Mrs. Coleridge, and half to place myself in a private mad house, where I could procure nothing but what a physician thought proper, and where a medical attendant could be constantly with me for two or three months (in less than that time, life or death would be determined,) then there might be hope,—now there is none! O God! how willingly would I place myself under Dr. Fox, in his establishment; for my case is a species of madness, only that it is a derangement, an utter impotence of the volition, and not of the intellectual faculties.—You bid me rouse myself; go bid a man paralitic in both arms to rub them briskly together, and that will cure him. 'Alas!' he would reply, 'that I cannot move my arms is my complaint and my misery.' May God bless you, and your affectionate but most afflicted—
S. T. COLERIDGE.

Laconic, but True.—A friend of ours, writing to a Democratic member of Congress, propounded the question: "What's the news politically, Nebraskally, and Congressionally."

The following was the response:

Things politically,
Look quite critically,
Because, Nebrascally,
They are so rascally,
And so Congressionally,
Will be long-sessionally.

That's the whole story in a nutshell.—Indiana Journal.

MILWAUKEE:

MONDAY:::::::::::::::::::::::::::::::::::::::JULY 17.

John P. Hale.

At the close of the last Presidential election, knowing the sentiment of the Free Democratic party to be unequivocally in his favor, we put the name of John P. Hale at the head of our columns, as candidate for President in 1856, resolved to oppose a National Nominating Convention. But having united cordially in the organization of the new Republican Party, on a satisfactory basis, comity and good faith require that we should take down his name, and be ready to support cheerfully any of the qualified men of the Republican party whether Hale, Chase, Seward, Sumner, or any other suitable man, whether he has been heretofore identified with the Whigs, Free Soilers, or Democrats.

THE Volksfreund, whose editor opens and no man shuts and shuts and no man opens to such of his readers as can only read German, asks us to substantiate our charge that his article of Saturday on the Madison Convention, was in the low style of blackguardism. He stigmatized it as the Booth Convention, and ran off into the usual tirade about abolition and niggers, without attempting, as a reasonable man sho'd, to controvert by argument the principles the Convention adopted.

We did charge and do charge that Mr. Fratney, in our office, in the presence of Mr. Paine, before the Clayton amendment was proposed, did declare himself opposed to the Nebraska bill. We charge that he was engaged in getting up a meeting of Germans to express their opposition to the bill. The paper lost one of its partners, and came out openly and shamelessly for Nebraska.

The Volksfreund makes two false charges against us. It is not true that we "blackguarded the patriotic sentiments of the attendants of the funeral of Capt. Quarles, on the 4th of July, 1848."

It is not true that "on different occasions" we have "blackguarded a large and respectable portion of our people for no other reason but because they happened to have been born on the other side of the Atlantic."

Our sentiments in regard to Nativism are well known, and this charge of the Volksfreund to excite the prejudice of the Germans against us, is the lowest kind of demagogueism. It is just as bad as Nativism, and is the very spirit that begets it. Mr. Fratney is welcome to the use of our files to prove these charges if he can. As we have often said, we have long since ceased to look for fair dealing from the Volksfreund, and hence we seldom look into its columns.

THE Reporter of the doings of the Madison Convention, we understand, is Mr. Kruer, the Librarian, who was not present, except for a few minutes, but was either in the Library or in the DOERSCHLAG Saloon during the Convention. He shamefully and inexcusably represents the Convention as opposed to the Germans, and in love for the negroes, whereas the last Resolution expressly invites the coöperation of all men, without regard to birth. It says: "It was always the policy of the Free Soilers and Abolitionists to give the blacks the right of voting, and deprive the emigrant citizens of the right of voting and citizenship."—"They have supported the Whigs in their manœuvers to prevent the passage of the Homestead bill."

Citizens of Milwaukee, Moritz Schœffler, who publishes such falsehoods against his fellow-citizens, is one of the guides and leaders of Democracy, and presents such stuff to his readers as truth! Do we not need an honest German press in this city, which shall not libel our citizens and unblushingly falsify the truth of history for party ends?

Who Mourns?

The grief of the News, Wisconsin, and other Hunker presses, at the giving up of the old Whig name and organization to form a new Republican party on the living issues of the present time, is fully shared by their slaveholding confreres of the South. The Richmond Enquirer says:

"We are sincerely sorry that the Whig party is defunct. Democracy will never find a foe less difficult to beat. The opposition of the whig party kept alive the vigilance and exercised and disciplined the energies of the Democracy, without seriously retarding their progress, or hazarding their ultimate success. But it may happen in the possible combinations of the future, that a party will arise with something more of efficiency in its organization, of plausibility in its platform, and of enthusiasm in its leaders, which, for a time at least, will oppose a successful resistance to the progress of Democratic principles"

That is, of Slavery principles.

Again it says:

"We have nothing to gain, but much to lose, from the dissolution of the Whig party; and if we carefully consider our position, we will be less disposed to exult than to mourn over the event."

Just so. And the Hunker presses have taken the same view of it. They see the handwriting on the wall and tremble at the doom that awaits the party.

THE Wisconsin regrets that the People's Convention took ground in favor of the repeal of the Fugitive Act. The Convention but represented the wishes of the people, and sustained the decision of Justice Smith. Congress has no power to legislate for the recapture of fugitives from labor. Such legislation belongs exclusively to the States, and it is a sheer usurpation for Congress to meddle with it.—That is the true doctrine, and the only doctrine that can save us from anarchy and revolution. It was the doctrine of Daniel Webster, in his 7th of March speech.

The Chicago Tribune says that Postmaster Cook of that city, editor of Young America, the Nebraska organ, has gone to Washington, to procure the removal of District Att'y Heyne and Collector Snowhook. The principal charges against these gentlemen are, that they did not manifest any interest in the Nebraska fizzle in that city, and are not willing to bleed very freely to support the Nebraska organ.

Ohio Freedom Convention.

The Cleveland Express gives a synopsis of the doings of the Ohio Convention on the 13th. Col. B. I. Leiter, of Stark, was President, Joseph R. Swan, Democrat, of Columbus, was nominated for Supreme Judge by acclamation, and J. Blickensderfer, of Tuscarawas, for Board of Public Works.

The convention resolved to resist the admission of any more Slave States, or the spread of the curse over any more territory, and to maintain the soil of Kansas and Nebraska for free homesteads and free men, at all hazards. To divorce the General Government from the support of slavery; and to call a National Convention to repel the encroachments of the slave power.

A Central Committee of thirteen was appointed to act for the ensuing year. The Convention numbered one thousand delegates. Great enthusiasm prevailed throughout, and the Convention adjourned with nine cheers for freedom and victory.

A despatch was received from Indianapolis, announcing that the freemen of Indiana, had organized, nominated a ticket, and pledged themselves to redeem that State next fall.

It will be seen that the Ohio convention adopted the same platform of principles as that adopted at Madison. We presume Indiana did likewise.

MINERAL POINT R. R.—The Mineral Point Tribune says the failure of the Schuylers will undoubtedly effect the prospects of a speedy completion of the Mineral Point Railroad to some extent, yet it has the fullest faith that the effect will be but temporary. The work is too far advanced to be delayed for any length of time.

For the present, the Tribune understands, the work is to be suspended, but it trusts that that suspension will be but temporary, and that the Company will be able, within a few weeks at fartherest, to re-commence it with a renewed energy that will result in the sound of the locomotive whistle at the Mineral Point Depot previous to the 1st of January, 1855.

It also understands that the Directors of the Company have raised the means from their own resources for paying the workmen on the Road up to the present time, and that the work on the "deep cut" near Warren will be continued without interruption.

TURN ABOUT AND TURN HIM OUT.—A few weeks ago Mr. Williams was turned out of the Watertown Postoffice, to make room for Mr. P. V. Brown. Mr. Williams, it is said, was appointed through the influence of Senator Walker—whom he helped make Senator, when a member of the State Senate in '49—in opposition to the wishes of the member from that District, Mr. Macy. Our Postmaster, it is said, also threw his influence into the scale, in favor of Mr. Williams. But our State officers, when at Washington, succeeded in getting Mr. Williams removed, and Mr. Brown appointed.—But, the reaction has come, and Mr. Brown is now turned out, and Mr. Williams turned in again. This is a queer administration, and the members of it are, just now, telling a great deal of truth of each other. The great triumphant Pierce party of '52 is crumbling and ready to tumble in pieces.

RESISTANCE.—The Boston correspondent of the N. Y. Herald mentions the fact, that at a public meeting recently held in New Bedford, a resolution was adopted advising fugitive slaves to kill those who attempt to arrest them, and adds:

"It is said that members of our Supreme Court have expressed the opinion that if a fugitive should slay his master while the latter was hunting him, the deed would not be murder."

Slavery being a state of war, and slaves being out-lawed from protection by the State, the slave has the same right to kill the slave-hunter who is pursuing him, to reduce him to slavery, that a man has to kill his enemy in battle. Every free man would do the same, if compelled to exchange places with the slave. Even Judge Miller says it is human nature to do so.

NEW YORK.—The Hardshells have nominated Greene C. Bronson for Governor, Elijah Ford for Lt. Governor, Clark Burnham for Canal Commissioner, and Abram Vernan for State Prison Inspector. Judge Bronson declined the nomination positively before the Convention nominated him. He may or may not accept.

BOARD OF HEALTH.—A Board of Health has been organized at Madison, and a quarantine has been established across Lake Monona, at the point known as Hoboken. Thither it is intended that all foreign immigrants shall be landed, and be examined. If any are sick, they will have proper care taken of them.

THE Jefferson Co. Jeffersonian complains loudly of the irregularity of the mails, and hopes the Post Office Department will investigate the matter. Vain hope. Slave-catching and Slavery-extension occupy the attention of every department of the present weak administration.

THE St. Louis papers chronicle the death of PIERCE C. GRACE, for many years a prominent and highly esteemed member of the bar of that city.

COL. DUSTIN, U. S. District Attorney of Minnesota, died recently, after an illness of a few hours.

THE Walworth Co. Agricultural Society hold a County Fair at Elkhorn, on the 26th and 27th of September next.

MASSACHUSETTS.—The Whigs of this State hold a Convention to nominate State officers on the 16th of August next.

THE New York Express says that Robert Schuyler was a graduate of Harvard University, and a class-mate of Caleb Cushing.

POST OFFICE.—B. E. Jones has been appointed Postmaster at Napesha, near Lake Emily, in Dodge County.

A canal boat, laden with peas, sunk in the Hudson River, burst open by the expansive force of the peas, in swelling.

Hon. Henry A. Wise is spoken of for the gubernatorial chair of Virginia.

BURNHAM, the actor shot at Aspinwall, was still living on the 1st inst.

THE Board of Health of New York refuse to give daily mortality reports.

THE NEBRASKA PILL.—The Elkhorn Reporter, dem. concludes an article on the results of the Nebraska swindle in New Hampshire, with the following statement and warning;

"The more we see and hear of its effects, (the Nebraska bill) the more we are convinced that it will work the destruction of its authors, and if the democratic party shall nominate a Nebraska Democrat at the next Presidential election, nothing can save the administration from falling into the hands of the Whigs. We throw out these hints for the consideration of our democratic friends, and the democratic Press in Wisconsin, whether in favor or against the measure, and leave them to make their own selection. For, although in this, we have attempted to act the Prophet, we shall not act the dictator, so far as the course of others is concerned, but shall for ourselves, take our own course. There is no use in talking that the question shall not be a test. No power on earth with the feeling that exists, can help it. There are six out of every seven, even among democrats, who will not under any circumstances, vote for a Nebraskaite for office. And it need not be told that the party have not much to lose, and still retain power. The party in Wisconsin, in particular, cannot live with this load upon them, and we should not be out of the way if we should say, they ought not to live if they take the load. Let it sink its bearer, and let obscurity cover the names of those who give their votes to aid the cause of iniquity. While the whole world is advancing, it is grievous to see the American Congress quickening speed in a retrograde direction—going back and bringing darkness upon the country, exposing it to shame and contempt among the nations of the earth. For the very shame they should not have done this thing."

Remember this paper supported Pierce, who is responsible for this iniquity and shame.

THE JANESVILLE GAZETEE—was one of the most reluctant of the Whig presses to favor the movement for the People's Convention. But one of its editors having been present, found a more conciliatory and moderate spirit among Free Soilers than he expected to see, and a greater willingness to unite among conservatives and leading whigs, and gives his adhesion to the new party thus;

"Our own course has been dictated by what we deem the exigencies of the times demand, and seems to be justified by the prevailing whig sentiment of the state; and though not decided upon without reluctance, our stand has been deliberately taken. We feel that the issue proposed in the platform of the convention has been forced upon the north, and that there is no alternative but to accept of it, or yield every thing at the nod of any northern demagogue who may bid for southern votes, or that may be required by an ever-exacting local interest.—We should have prefered to meet this issue in the whig ranks under a pure whig organization; we believe the whig party of the north to be true upon this question, and that it has heretofore offered the only practicable opposition to the slave power; but the action of our whig friends in this and other States, points to the path we have now taken, and we follow it hoping for the best, believing that we abandon no principle, knowing no change of opinion, though we sacrifice no inconsiderable amount of feeling."

The Demonstration Yesterday.

It was a proud day for Wisconsin yesterday. No such political gathering was ever before seen in this State. It is seldom that a convention has numbered its hundreds; yesterday thousands were convened—men of all parties—natives of the old world and the new, their former political proclivities and prejudices melted down and merged in the one great idea that the liberties of the nation are threatened with destruction by the slaveholders of the south, and the doughfaces of the north, and that there must be a union of all true men, and true friends of the Union to restore to Freedom what has been lost by the perfidy of those into whose hands her interests have been entrusted.

The lowest estimate which we have heard placed upon the number of those in attendance from abroad was 2000. We have never seen a political convention characterized by so much harmony, and by such a universal design to do right, and not to overstep the limits of propriety in any direction. The great importance of taking proper action was felt by every member present, and the resolutions were drawn up with much care, and met with the unanimous approbation of the convention. We have not seen a single man, except those who still swear by PIERCE & DOUGLAS—and they are few and far between—who is not perfectly satisfied with the proceedings, and agreeably disappointed by finding greater coolness and discretion than was anticipated by the most sanguine.—Madison Journal of the 15th inst.

OFFICIAL MEANNESS.—The Commissioners of the State House at Springfield, Ill. recently refused to let Cassius M. Clay speak in that building. Mr. C. however, addressed the people in a grove, near the city, remarking in opening, "that he found himself somewhat in the condition of John the Baptist, who came preaching in the wilderness. Even in his own State—a slave State—the common courtesy of citizenship had never been withheld from him; no court house or state house door had been shut against him. There was a spirit of magnanimity in Kentucky men, that was superior to such meanness as that. To those who had refused him courtesy to day, it might afford them some satisfaction to know that his father and grandfathers, and family kindred, had fought in nearly every battle field in our country from the days of the revolution, and had helped to purchase with their blood, these privileges which were now enjoyed by men of to-day. At least, he felt himself no intruder in this capital city of the west."

The Convention of the 13th.—One of us has just returned, after an absence of a couple of days, from the Convention of the 13th, at Madison.—We have only time now to say that the Convention was all its most ardent friends could have hoped. The numbers in attendance are variously estimated from one thousand to twenty-five hundred. We presume it is quite within the bounds of moderation to put the number of actual delegates in attendance at fully one thousand.

A platform was adopted with scarcely a dissent. The very best feeling prevailed, and as for the enthusiasm, we have attended a number of Conventions, but we never saw anything like it. The fusion of the friends of freedom in this State into one party, we consider perfect, and we look upon the political future of our State as bright and encouraging.—Kenosha Tel.

THE Grand Jury of the U. S. Court for the district of North Carolina, have presented the State of Massachusetts as a nuisance, for her want of alacrity in slave catching. At the same time they give thanks to Franklin Pierce for the promptness and activity of his bloodhound instincts. It is awful, very awful!

SENATOR SEWARD made a speech last Wednesday, against Clayton's amendment to the Homestead Bill, discriminating against foreigners. He opposed Native Americanism strongly. Mr. Seward thinks the bill will pass. We hope so, but doubt.

The election of Counsellor End, formerly of Boston, to a seat in the Provincial Parliament from Gloucester, New Brunswick, was secured through the exertions of his wife, who canvassed the whole district. That man has a helpmeet.

"COMING EVENTS CAST THEIR SHADOWS BEFORE."—A little girl, about ten years old, daughter of Mr. Oberland, a resident of the Eighth ward, as the clock was striking 12 on Saturday noon, exclaimed mournfully to her mother, "To-morrow at this hour I shall be in Heaven." There was something so sad and plaintive in the tone in which she uttered this, that in spite of the parent not being superstitious naturally, it made an impression upon her mind, which she found impossible to throw off. At dinner she told her husband of the circumstance, and he endeavored to rally the child, but with a sweet sad smile in which, however, no fear was manifested at the coming prospect, she repeated her conviction of her speedy dissolution. It was now the fathers turn to show a depression of spirits, which overshadowed him the whole day, so much so, that in the evening, meeting officer Young, watchman of that ward, he told him of the child's singular prognostication. Up to this time, the little girl had enjoyed exceedingly good health, but during the night the parents were aroused by her complaining bitterly of pains in her back and head. As early as possible a physician was called in, who pronounced her in a high state of billious fever. Notwithstanding all that human aid could effect, she expired at noon. Her fatal prophecy was fulfilled.—Cincinnati Enqr., 3d.

A STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.—Mr. Peabody, of whose extraordinary success in strawberry culture we have spoken in the Journal, lately gave a feast of "strawberries and cream," at his residence, to the Bishops and Clergy of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Conference assembled at Columbus, Ga. The Columbus Enquirer gives a detailed account of the festival, but our space will not allow us to copy it in full. Suffice it to say, that after four hundred quarts of strawberries had been gathered for the feast, the "patch" of several acres was still full of berries, in every stage of progress to maturity; that some two hundred and fifty bishops and clergy sat down and ate their fill of the delicious fruit smothered in cream—Bishop Soule presiding at the head of the board—and after all were satiated, there remained many full vessels of strawberries untouched and untasted! Amazement and delight at the wondrous skill of Mr. Peabody in this branch of horticulture, pervaded the assembly, and kindled their gratitude for the very rich entertainment provided.—Water Cure Journal.

Temperance Lecture.—Mrs. Shepard, of Beloit, gave a temperance lecture in this city, last Wednesday evening. The notice of her lecture was very short, yet the Hall was well filled, and all with whom we have conversed speak in high terms of her as a lecturer.

On her way here she addressed the inmates of the State Prison, at Waupun, and the following copy of a paper, got up by the convicts, and presented to her by them, will give an idea of the effects of the lecture:

"We, the undersigned, will contribute the sums affixed to our names, as a token of gratitude to Mrs. Shepard for the touching and elegant appeal she has given us to-day, and with it we all say 'God bless her.'"

The paper contains the names of 21 prisoners, with sums subscribed ranging from 50 cts. to $2, amounting in all to $23. The prisoners are allowed pay for extra work by the contractor for building the new prison, in cutting stone, and the above amount was made up from the money earned in that way.—Oshkosh Democrat.

Sectionalism Checked.

The Sandusky Mirror well says:

"The Fusionism in the judiciary, with SECTIONALISM, is so palpable, that no judge has had boldness enough to pronounce the Fugitive Slave Law of 1850 unconstitutional, notwithstanding it is an almost universal opinion of all sound and well read lawyers that it is so, clearly and emphatically. Yes, there is one exception in a State judge, be it said in honor of his ever-living fame. He is the Hon. A.D. SMITH, Judge of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin. Let his name and his fame be wafted upon every breeze, while liberty has a friend on earth."

DOMESTIC LAWS.—Connecticut has been passing two additional laws upon the subject of "Domestic Relations." One provides that the several provisions of the act of 1849, relative to the property and estate of married women, be, and the same are, hereby extended and applied to all property owned by any women previous to the time of her marriage. The other enacts that upon the dissolution of any marriage by divorce, if there shall be a minor child or children of such marriage who shall stand in need of maintenance or support, it shall be the duty of the parents of such child or children to provide for, support and maintain them, according to the abilities of such parents respectively.

The Richmond Post says that "the Rev. Professor Goodrich, of Yale College, declares that the members of the faculty of that institution are a unit in opposition to slavery. He takes occasion, too, to inform the South that Yale cares nothing for its patronage."

If this be true, it shows that the world moves forward rapidly.

CHOLERA AT MACKINAC.—This disease prevails to some extent, at Mackinac, and several have fallen victims to it. Seventeen deaths occurred from cholera on board of the Propeller Niagara, which arrived at Mackinac on Wednesday last. The mate of the vessel died soon after landing there, and the Captain's wife was taken ashore sick.

Thos. Smith, President of the Indiana Convention, was an old Democratic member of Congress, and the majority of the Vice Pres'ts were Democrats, among whom were Col. Lane, H. S. Ellsworth and J. P. Chapman.

THE Worcester Spy announces that Mr. Paine has overcome the difficulty arising from electrical explosions, and that he has perfected his invention for producing light, heat and motive power from the decomposition of water.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—Two men, named McGuire and Daugherty, were killed by lightning, while standing under a tree at Waukegan, on Thursday last.

Gov. Matteson, of Ill., was burned in effigy at Chicago, on Friday night last, for commuting the sentence of death pronounced against the murderers of Story, to imprisonment for life.

The Racine Democrat fears the Republicans will elect a U. S. Senator next winter, in place of I. P. Walker. We have no doubt they will.

THE Chicago Tribune says the Resolutions of the Convention at Madison breathe the right spirit.

A ton of broom corn will make 1200 or 1300 brooms. It is worth $60 a ton, besides the seed.

According to a recent report there are thirty thousand clerks in the city of New York.

The deaths thus far, by the great railroad massacre, are 33.

The preacher who excited the mob at Bath, was not Orr, but Brown.

The population of Washington city is now estimated at 53,000.

Wayside Correspondence.

CHICAGO, July 13, 1854.

A great many are travelling, and but little fear or caution is manifested, save to fill all the pockets with cholera preventives. Three gentlemen, unaccustomed to the Lakes, were taken with the pestering disease of sea-sickness, and imagined it to be cholera. Of course, they were much frightened. I was sitting by the same table writing. They begged of me to help them in some way; they not being provided with remedies. Doct. Brown, of your city, would have felt very highly complimented if he could have heard their expressions in favor of Homœpathy, after the boat arrived at Chicago. They said they felt much better.

I believe but few boats have nobler-hearted men for officers than the Arctic. I could relate an incident, told me by one of the cabin boys, which would establish this truth as firmly in other minds, if it is not so already, as it is in my own. A true generosity and nobleness of heart which is seldom seen, and which seemed to rise above the ordinary rules of Society, was manifested toward a poor traveller taken with cholera on board this boat. But their acts are registered in his heart.

More of life is seen in one day's travel than can be witnessed in months at home, in retirement. We see men who bear beneath their altered brows the ashes of a thousand dreams, settling at last in business at which their boyhood gaze would not even stop to look in its proud flights. Ambition's finger lines are easily traced. And some faded pictures are seen, once well colored by Love's pencil. If it were possible to stop dreaming early, and, when the energies are quick and strong, grasp something practical, and concentrate the whole faculties to its complete mastery, more men would be seen and few disappointed, melancholy shadows.

We are in Chicago. Business is not dull here. "Baggage conveyed at the cars," cries the learned runner. More anon, G.

L. F. Frisby, a promising young lawyer of West Bend, Washington Co., was admitted to practice in the Supreme Court this forenoon.—Madison Journal, 14th inst.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.—See notice in our advertising columns requesting the several Fire Companies to meet on Wisconsin St., on the 18th inst., to receive the Chicago Fire Companies expected here by the boat.

TURN VEREIN CELEBRATION.—The annual celebration of this society, takes place this afternoon, on the Green Bay road, one mile north of the city limits, concluding with a ball at Young's Hall, in the evening.

NIGHT BLOOMING CEREUS.—Mr. Emery's Ice Cream Saloon was adorned by a splendid specimen of the Night Blooming Cereus, from the garden R. N. Messenger, on Saturday evening last.

CAPT. COTTON thinks our article of Saturday did great injustice to the Michigan R. R. Companies, and that we are mistaken as to the extent of the rumors alluded to. Our information came from a source we deemed reliable, but Capt. Cotton assures us that they have no foundation. We hope not. Such rumors, if without cause, should be flatly contradicted. The public mind is extremely sensitive in regard to the exposure of human life by Railroad Companies.

The Turn-Verein Society were marching through our streets between 1 and 2 o'clock, this afternoon, dressed in uniform, with banners flying, and preceded by a band of music. They made a decidedly respectable appearance.

Some 30 members of the Chicago Turn-Verein Society arrived here by the str. Cleveland, last evening, to join in the festivities with their brethren in this city.

DEMAND FOR LABORERS.—The harvest is now fairly commenced in most parts of the State, and the demand for laborers greatly exceeds the supply, and it is said that many farmers will suffer much loss by their grain standing too long without being harvested, unless they have better success in procuring hands. Labor in the harvest field, for the next three or four weeks, will command almost any price, and it has been suggested that it would be wise policy for Railroad Contractors to suspend operations for a few weeks, so that their laborers might assist the farmers in securing their crops in season, so as to sustain no loss.

Mr. Jas. Holton, of the Express, says that he is daily applied to for information as to where harvest hands can be obtained.

CURE FOR THE CHOLERA OR DIARRHŒA.—Take equal parts of Tincture of Laudanum, Cayenne pepper (treble strength), Rhubarb, Essence of Peppermint (treble strength), and Spirits of Camphor. Mix in a bottle. Dose from 5 to 30 drops, according to violence of symptoms; to be repeated in 10 or 15 minutes, if needed. If the above does not give relief, procure medical attendance.

Last night, the grocery store of L. K. Barron on Spring St., opposite the American House, was entered through the back window, by some petty scamp, who prefers gaining a livelihood by stealing rather than by honest labor. A quantity of hams, flour, and, quite probably some other articles, were carried away.

ARTILLERY COMPANY.—The Artillery Co. recently organized in this city, have selected the following officers:

Captain—J. A. Leibhaber.
1st Lieutenant—A. Bade.
2d " —E. F. Herzberg.
3d " —H. Schwarting.

Police Court.

Jas. F. Bailey, one of the prisoners arrested a few days since, for stealing from the Merchants Hotel, was brought down from jail this morning, and was discharged, after giving bail in sum of $350 to appear at the Circuit Court on the 3d Monday of September next.

A man named Suhlar was brought up for threatening to destroy property, and was required to give bail in the sum of $300 to be of good behavior for three months, and in default, was committed.

A warrant was issued against Scheffer and others, of the Fifth Ward, for an assault and battery committed on the 16th inst.

Some half dozen, or less, applications were made for warrants against individuals concerned in the riot that took place just after the arrival of the str. Cleveland, last evening, but the applicants were advised to consult the District Attorney before commencing proceedings.

We understand there were some 50 persons engaged in the affray.

BUCKEYE STATE. — The Buffalo Express says:

"This magnificent steamer has been withdrawn from the Michigan Central R. R. Line, and placed on the route between Buffalo and Chicago."

She is commanded by Capt. Imson, and will leave Buffalo on her first trip, to-morrow evening.

Arrived at Buffalo, 13th inst., brig Burns, Milwaukee, 500 bu. rye, 450 bbls. flour, 40,000 brick; schooner Æriel, Draper, Milwaukee, 18,500 bu oats, 800 do. rye, 26 do. beans, 28 tons pig lead.

Cleared—schooner D. Newhall, Waffle, Milwaukee.

THE CLEVELAND. — This steamer arrived here on Saturday afternoon last, and has taken the place of the Traveler, disabled by fire, on the route between here and Chicago. The day line is now complete again, and the Pacific will soon be repaired and ready to ply on the night line.

Capt. Hawley's dredge is in operation in the river, back of Wells & Hill's warehouse.

Capt. Watson Rogers captured a porpoise off Nantucket, ten and a half feet in length, and weighing eight hundred pounds!

The Irish papers by the Baltic speak in the most encouaging terms of the potatoe crop.

The Harvest.—The sickle is already in the field. Barley, the first grain garnered, is being harvested; and winter wheat will be ready as soon as the reapers are ready for it. The grain no longer holds a high head, but is bowed down with fulness and maturity—the heavy heads are lopping about, swinging to and fro in the breeze, and occasionally may be seen the more favored ones taking their rest on the tops of the fences. It is a goodly sight to see the "big heads" looking over six rail fences and showing good manners to the passers-by. Corn is "spreading itself," and looks like placid lakes of green amid the surrounding fields of ripening grain

There is quite a demand for field labor, and fears are expressed that the demand will not be met. Good wages and ready employment can now be had by all who will work.—Jefferson Co. Jeffersonian.

A REEF OF FLIES.—As the steamboat Ward, Capt. Estabrook, was crossing over from Point Keweenaw to Marquette, on her last trip down, she came in contact with a reef—not of sand nor of rock—but of June flies, that caused some little excitement as well as merriment. There was a heavy fog on the lake, and the boat was running slowly, and the Captain was on the lookout for the rocky coast of Marquette. On a sudden the engine stopped and the cry of 'a reef' was heard over the boat, and every one rushed out on deck. We were on board, and at the cry we looked out of our state-room window, and saw that our boat was running along and not fifty feet from what any one would have sworn was a reef of rock or sand, but which, on close examination, turned out to be a reef of flies, many rods in length and several feet in width. —Lake Superior Journal.

Disease in War.—It is now pretty well known that the soldier is more likely to die in the hospital than in battle. Three Americans died by disease in Mexico to one who fell in battle.—When the Russians invaded Turkey in 1828 they lost 50,000 men by sickness alone, from want of necessaries of life, and neglect in the commissariat department; 50,000 Russians died on the plains of Turkey, not one man of whom died in battle, for their advance was not resisted by the Turks. In the next year (1829) the Russians lost 60,000 men between the Pruth and the city of Adrianople. Some of these, however, were slain in battle. When they arrived at Adrianople the troops were in so wretched a condition from sickness and want of food, that not 7,000 were able to bear arms.

THE FORCE OF HABIT.—It is curious to observe how one's habits of thoughts constantly break out and exhibit themselves in whatever he does or says. In one of our colleges, it was customary for the professors to take turns in making the chapel prayers. Once upon an occasion, this duty fell upon the learned professor of chemistry, and the students were astonished to hear him introduce an illustration thus:—"Thou knowest, O Lord, that for tipping lightning, silver is better than platinum, so is the mind touched by thy grace, made most ready to receive the principles of science!" On another occasion, the mathematical professor asked "Divine goodness to enable us to know its length, its breadth, its depth, and its superficial contents!"

FLOWERS.—A lady subscriber is advised by the editor of the Horticulturist to discard all her miscellaneous flowers, and fill her flower-beds with verbenas, scarlet geraniums, salvias, & petunias. They will stand the sun and dry weather, and make the garden gay at all times. This hint should not be lost on our fair readers, who often find it difficult to preserve the freshness and beauty of their flower-gardens during the sultry and parching heat of our almost tropical summers.—Water-Cure Jour.

Newport.—We learn that about fifty buildings will be constructed the present season in the village of Newport. This flourishing village is situated at the head of navigation on the Wisconsin river, and 10 miles north of Baraboo. The Milwaukee and La Crosse R. R. will cross the river at that point. With these advantages, together with a good farming country around it, it cannot fail to become a place of considerable importance.—Baraboo Standard.

Mr. Marsh, of Pembroke, Mass., and Miss Sampson formerly of the same town, but more recently of Stoughton, drowned themselves Monday in Reed's pond at Abington. They went out together in a chaise, and after divesting themselves of their outer garments, lashed themselves together and jumped in the pond. They left a note behind saying where they could be found.

Four famous horses were sold on Tuesday in New York at auction, viz: Mac was struck off at $4,100 to Mr. Mann, of Baltimore; Tacony was sold for $3,700, to Mr. J. G. Bevens, of New York; Frank Forrester was sold to Mr. Mann also, who paid $2,350. Barnum was withdrawn from the auction, he having been sold at private sale during the morning, for the sum of $2,850.

The Louisville Democrat says: A German fair one, up in Chillicothe, waited on her false lover last week, and asked him what he meant by promising that she should be his wife, and then tying himself to another. Not being quick enough in his reply, she fired a pistol in his face, and—nearly spoiled his beauty.

RARE ANIMALS.—A sacred bull and a cow have been brought to Boston, from Calcutta, India, the first, it is said, that have ever been brought to this country. They are small animals with a bunch upon their shoulders. The bull black and the cow white. The proprietor intends to place them upon a farm in Scituate, Mass.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

I've wandered to the village, Tom; I've sat beneath the tree,
Upon the school-house play ground, which sheltered you and me;
But none were left to greet me, Tom, and few were left to know,
That played with us upon the green, some twenty years ago.

The grass is just as green, Tom; barefooted boys at play,
Were sporting just as we did then, with spirits just as gay,
But the "MASTER" sleeps upon the hill, which coated o'er with snow,
Afforded us a sliding place, just twenty years ago.

But the old school-house is altered some, the benches are replaced
By new ones, very like the same our penknives had defaced;
But the same old bricks are in the wall, the bell swings to and fro,
The music's just the same, dear Tom, 'twas twenty years ago.

The boys were playing some old game, beneath that same old tree—
I do forget the name, just now—you've played the same with me
On that same spot; 'twas played with knives, by throwing so and so—
The leader had a task to do there, twenty years ago.

The river's running just as still; the willows on its side
Are larger than they were, Tom; the stream appears less wide—
But the grape-vine swing is ruined now, where once we played the beau,
And swung our sweethearts—pretty girls—just twenty years ago.

The spring that bubbled 'neath the hill, close by a spreading beach,
Is very low—'twas once so high that we could hardly reach;
And kneeling down to get a drink, dear Tom, I started so
To see how much that I had changed since twenty years ago.

Near by the swing, upon the elm, you know I cut your name,
Your sweetheart's just beneath it, Tom, and you did mine the same;
Some heartless wretch has pealed the bark—'twas dying sure but slow,
Just as that one, whose name you cut, died twenty years ago.

My lids have long been dry, Tom, but tears came in my eyes—
I thought of her I loved so well—those early broken ties;
I visited the old churchyard, and took some flowers to strew
Upon the grave of those we loved some twenty years ago.

Some are in the churchyard laid—some sleep beneath the sea—
But few are left of our old class, excepting you and me,
And when OUR time shall come, Tom, and we are called to go,
I hope they'll lay us where we played just twenty years ago.
